I'm a third-generation Israeli, currently living in Zichron Ya'akov. In high school, I focused on computer science and biology. After graduating, I volunteered for a year at a youth boarding school, then served in the IDF as a basic training commander. I enjoy watching reality TV and playing board games like Catan and Codenames with friends. As a child, I spent two summers at Camp Harlam, and I'm excited to return this year as a Chavurah counselor!

Hello, I'm Tobi and I live in London. This will be my second summer at Camp Harlam, and I can't wait to be back! Last summer was my first year, and I was the photography specialist (and second session general), but this summer I will be a Senior Counselor! Over the last year, I have been working in a primary school as a teaching assistant, and after camp, I'm hoping to start my project management job (time to put my finance and accounting degree to use). I love photography, travelling, cracking a joke, and meeting new people. I'm excited about getting to know all of the Rah kids (old and new to camp) and being a part of their last summer as campers!

Currently, I work for the athletic department filming videos with our sports teams and creating content to post on social media. I love it, and it's a massive passion of mine. Also, I volunteer with a club called A Kid Again here at IU. We host adventures for kids with life-threatening disabilities, and I love the work that we do. In my free time, I love being outside; whether it's playing sports or hanging out with friends, camp feels like the perfect place for me. See y'all soon!
