

2019 Financial Assistance Guidelines and Application Instructions

Our mission is to create a vibrant, fun and caring camp community which enriches and strengthens Reform Jewish identity and values while cultivating lifelong friendships. It is our goal to use the camp's Financial Assistance/Scholarship program to address financial obstacles that may act as a barrier for enrollment.

We have created an approach that is based on three core principles: (1) consistency, (2) transparency, and (3) partnership. Utilizing these principles, we have established a process that attempts to "level the playing field" by eliminating subjectivity where possible and establishing clear expectations. It is our goal to create partnerships where families, our URJ member congregations, local Jewish Federations, communal organizations, and the camp each contribute to the best of their ability to enable a family to send their children to camp.

POLICIES & GUIDELINES

The online Financial Assistance Application and accompanying materials should be used by families seeking financial assistance for either Camp Harlam (residential camp in Kunkletown, PA) or for the Harlam families with a child enrolled for the NFTY in Israel program.

If you are a family seeking assistance for MULTIPLE children to attend Camp Harlam, please note that the Weidhorn Scholarship Program will be continuing in 2019 and families with multiple children should follow this same application process to be considered for this program (there will be an opportunity to self select this program as part of the application process).

The Financial Assistance Program is available to members of URJ (Reform Movement) congregations as well as those unaffiliated with a URJ congregation. The options for each group are distinctive in this way:

- URJ congregational members will be part of the standard scholarship program and process that has the benefit of funding from both the budgeted assistance allocated annually by Camp Harlam and the supplemental support of the Mitch Perlmeter Scholarship Fund. Requests by URJ congregational members will be considered for support as the camp's priority.
- Non-URJ congregational members will be eligible for support from the Mitch Perlmeter Scholarship Fund only.
- Scholarship awards are considered on an anonymous/needs-basis. The committee will consider:

- Family income as confirmed by the current year's tax returns. While assets and other metrics may be relevant, the committee has found current tax returns to be the most consistent and useful tool
- Extraordinary expenses (i.e. extreme medical costs) and circumstances (i.e. loss of job or illness) but not expenses that are more typical in the life of a family such as orthodontics, B'nai Mitzvah and/or college costs.
- Divorce (or other like issues) in families with an absent parent. However, the committee is wary of difficulties related to parental disputes (such as decrees that do not include camp costs), because it is not the committee's role to adjudicate such family matters.

Applicants must submit the online application. Please identify any child you are requesting assistance for, but you only need to complete one application per family. All timely applications will be reviewed before any late application will be considered. Complete applications received after the deadline will be considered on a case-by-case basis with awards given from funds available (if any) at the time of consideration.

All NEW applicants must supply a copy of their 2018 Federal Income Tax Return. RETURNING applicants may supply a copy of their 2017 Federal Income Tax Return. The Financial Assistance Committee will not consider any application submitted without a Federal Tax Return. Applications not submitted with the proper documentation will be considered incomplete. You will receive a confirmation email when we receive the necessary Federal Income Tax Return and your application is complete.

When completing the online portion of the application, it is required that families indicate the amount they are able to contribute toward camp tuition. This amount should include all funds being contributed by family/friends, but should not include scholarship being provided by synagogues, federations, etc. Please do not request "as much as possible", or an unspecified amount. Applications with vague requests or unspecified amounts will not be considered.

The Financial Assistance Committee will consider awards assisting campers for one session of camp. For example, if a child is enrolled for the Full Season (both First Session and Second Session), financial assistance will be considered solely for First Session.

Harlam requests that families contact their own congregation, local Jewish Federations and/or communal organizations to inquire about any available resources they may be able to provide. Please provide your congregation with the 2019 Synagogue Participation Form located under "Forms/Documents" in your CampInTouch account.

Award recipients will be notified by email after final determinations are made (typically by April 1st). These awards are provided as a credit toward camp tuition and seldom will result in full scholarships (even with other sources of support). Harlam reserves the right to adjust the awarded credit at any time without prior notice or notification to compensate for credit due to any additional payments received (including, but not limited to, other scholarships and/or grants) or credit given.

In order to achieve our goal to help as many families in need as possible each year, the amount of assistance awarded will be based partially on the overall number of applicants and the funds available.

Decisions on awards will be made by the Harlam Financial Assistance Committee on an anonymous basis, but when appropriate, the financial assistance application may be supplemented by information shared by both the camp's professional staff and/or the applicant's URJ congregation (confidentially).
